Work Experience

Freelancer

June 2012 Until now

Software Developer

I started my career as a freelancer in Ponisha, then as a half-time contractor for DXBS, ToopCell, Popcorn.im and a few other start-ups and small businesses such as PNUNA.

Everywhere

June 2012 Until now

Open Source Contributor

I have contributed to several open source projects, including WordPress and Ubuntu Linux. I have translated "Easy Digital Downloads" to Persian and created Iranian payment gateways for it, as it resulted a significant grow on "Pay-for-download" sites in Iran.

I have translated "http2 explained" book which is written by D. Stenberg (creator of curl) and published it for free.

I have created various node.js modules, available at npmjs.com.

I have created a few free WordPress plugins, too. Also, I've uploaded a plugin (ChannelPress) to CodeCanyon 3 years ago, which I discontinued the support because of money transferring difficulties.

Education

Motahari High School

September 2014 to June 2018

Diploma, Mathematics and Physics

Motahari is ranked 2nd in the Isfahan top high schools list after Sadat.
